Stopping in Andice for one of the best burgers around.

This is what a shifter linkage looks like on a Harley. Some times you have to stop and tighten. Sure Glad Goldwings do not have this

Stopping in Andice

First stop is Andice

Made it to Andice with only minor issues. One Harley Had shifter linkage issues that needed to be tighten up Less it fall off, then I guess it becomes a real manual shift

Ride to Andice for one of the best Burgers around

As you can see Andice is a food store. I think it masquerades as a food Store. It really is a restaurant with food items as decorations

Great way to have Father / Daughter Time

What's a ride without stopping a DQ

The End of a great Ride.

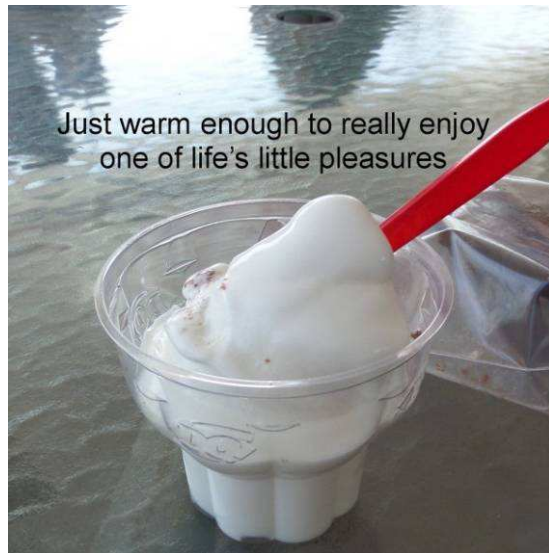

That is alright, I will not post your picture at the Porta Potty.....

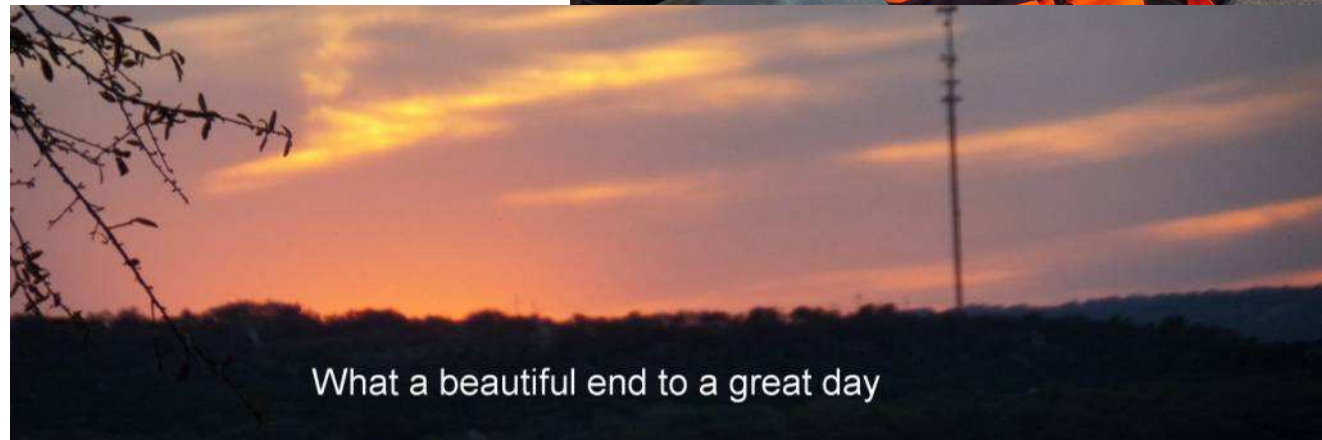

Well it was a round about way to get to Burnett for the DQ break but we made it. Ok Claire, I lied I posted your Porta Potty picture

Yum Yum

Just warm enough to really enjoy one of life's little pleasures

What a beautiful end to a great day
